

CURRENT OPENINGS

MultiMediaMouth is a digital-first media news outlet and commentary site. We produce written, audio and video content, and specialize in promoting new artists and independent projects. Currently, we are looking to expand our team.

We are specifically looking for bloggers who are interested in building their portfolio. If you have a passion for writing content or for discussing your viewpoint on the media. Here are some of the points of interest that we are looking to fulfill:

Music News/Reviews/Commentary

- Artist Spotlights
  - If there is an artist that you want to promote or review, we would love to spotlight them. The spotlight will include a few points about the artists (age, where they're from, importations, etc).
- New Album Review
  - Help promote your favorite artist's new album or EP. Reviews generate great buzz.

TV Reviews

We love talking about TV shows. If you have a TV show that you watch on the regular, write up a weekly review of the show!

Sports Commentator

We currently have no sports commentary or news team. If you enjoy sports, we would love to talk to you about covering sports for our site. You'd be in charge of posting breaking news and commentary.

If you have a desire for media, we'd love to talk to you about joining our team.

Positions are currently not paid, but as we grow and build an audience, commission will be paid out on ad revenue.
